Greetings from the President

Dear Members,

The first six months this year have been busy, but rewarding. I would like to once more thank the former President Sonia Zamora and FIA-PAS for their great efforts in leading FEPEDA during the past three years. I will do my very best in serving you for the next three years.

At our three meetings this year we have had productive discussions and made progress in many ways. We have analyzed our strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats (SWOT) which has given us a lot of good information and tools for our future work. One of our priorities this year is to increase awareness of FEPEDA at family level. This includes sharing of information, networking, encouraging member countries to invite foreign families to their family events – just a few examples to mention. The planning of the FEPEDA Family Camp 2019 has also started and will be worked further by our Family camp working group. Please follow up closely our website and Facebook for further information!

At advocacy level our cooperation with other organizations has been active including the Microsoft conference in February, the European Disability Forum's General Assembly in May, meeting with GPODHH and FCEI-conference in June. On the World Hearing Day 3rd of March we launched a press release on equal rights on hearing aids. I hope it has been useful in your work at national level.

I would like to take this opportunity and welcome you all to Bukarest, Romania, where the next Management Committee meetings and General Assembly will be held on 5th – 6th October, 2018.

Looking forward to seeing you all there!

Enjoy the summer!
Sari Paloposki
President of FEPEDA

"Asculta Viata!" - Hear Life!

News from Romania—

Romanian Association of hearing impaired persons „Hear Life!” was established in 2007 at the initiative of the parents of hearing impaired children at a time when information about cochlear implant and the rehabilitation process was scarce and the national CI programme had been blocked for roughly two years.

11 years later, we comprise of more than 250 families from throughout Romania and have managed to organize regular family events (summer & winter camps), workshops and seminars for professionals and parents while also having a magazine, website and Facebook page (Asociatia "Asculta Viata!" - Hear Life!). In the last year we managed to create two early intervention centers in partnerships with schools for the deaf from Iasi and Vicovu de Sus as well as a pottery workshop at the school for the deaf in Iasi, all through private-funded grants.

In regards to the national legislation, we have implemented various lobbying and advocacy campaigns targeted at improving the relevant legal provisions, disseminate information about the legal rights and provide legal advice to the parents of hearing impaired children. Information received from similar associations from abroad including FEPEDA members, concerning their national CI programme, proved invaluable, as we finally managed to convince the Ministry of Health and the National Health Insurance on the importance and benefits for having the sound processors replaced within the National CI programme. We hope that the bill modifying the legal framework will enter into force in the first half of 2018. As the bill entered in force in May, we are keeping its implementation under scrutiny and looking to further adjust the budget according to patients' needs.

News from Germany – Networking in Hessen

Thanks to a lot of volunteer work, we founded an open network in Hessen for all associations, self-help-groups and initiatives that are interested in improving educational standards for hearing impaired pupils. Legislation and theoretical support looks okay, but access is not guaranteed hessian-wide. Why not?

We came together at a round table and agreed on 10 most important points that need to be improved urgently. We forwarded the memorandum including all 10 points to the responsible authorities. That was 3 years ago. Since 2015 we have the opportunity to take part in a working group focusing on the education of hearing impaired children at special as well as regular schools. Hopefully by end of this year we will reach a milestone.

FERIENTREFFS at special schools for regular pupils

"What's the next FERIENTREFF about, mum? I can't wait for it!" Nicole Schilling usually gets that question 4 times a year from her daughter about several weeks before school holidays start.

"FERIENTREFF" means the get-together of families with hearing impaired pupils who go to regular schools. These meetings usually take place at Johannes-Vatter-Schule in Friedberg, which is a special school for pupils who are hard of hearing or deaf.

Each school holiday, the families are welcomed to enjoy the great facilities there. The affected children as well as their brothers and sisters are invited to take part in cool leisure activities: creative, communicative, and sportive. They have parents, teachers or team leaders who offer geo caching, pottery, painting, carving pumpkins, sport in the gym, carpenters and so on.

While the children are enjoying themselves, the parents come together not only for a cup of coffee but also for exchanging experiences and sharing difficulties their children face every day. "We help to keep ourselves up to date in terms of technical, educational and social aspects," informs Nicole, vice-chairwoman of German association "Elternvereinigung hoergeschae digter Kinder" in Hessen.

"Why are we organising this in the 6th year now? - If not, we would lack of contacts among equals and our children would miss chances," explains Nicole. Often the hearing impaired pupils at regular schools are the only ones among 1000 pupils. "By just 'seeing' other children with hearing aids we offer a piece of empowerment. The better they know each other, the better they encourage themselves."

Equal chances for children and young people with hearing impairment and their families

Implementation period 04 / 2018 - 12 / 2020

Through this project, ARDUS offers an innovative model for improving the quality of life of people with disabilities by establishing an active mechanism for cooperation with stakeholders who are involved in the professional realization of people with hearing impairment.

The main objective of the project is to create prerequisites for active social inclusion of children and young people with hearing impairment and their families as one of the most vulnerable groups in our society. Thus, the proposed activities are aimed at raising the awareness of the public about the problems and opportunities of people with disabilities and changing the public attitudes towards them.

The main focus is the improvement of knowledge and skills, as well as the enhancement of the personal and social competences of hearing impaired people and their families, as well as effective partnership and dialogue with the administration, the social partners and society.

News from Lithuania –

Workshop for young families with deaf and hard of hearing children

On April 21-22, PAGAVA organized a two days' workshop for young families with deaf and hard of hearing children. The topics of the event included prevention of alcohol consumption, how to talk with children and teenagers about alcohol, and ways to avoid addictions.

The aim of the event was to strengthen family health by involvement into active leisure activities. It turned out, that health topics are very important for young families as there were more those who wished to participate in the workshop than were expected. Therefore, a similar workshop will be organized in autumn.

While parents were learning "to live healthy", their children were involved in a separate education program organized by PAGAVA staff and volunteers. Sign language interpreters participated in all activities ensuring access to information for all participants.

Organization experience shows that during workshops and seminars parents not only receive useful information but can also meet other families with hearing impaired children; they can discuss common problems and share ways of solving them alongside with consultations with specialists.

Training session for deaf and hard of hearing young people

On May 12-13, a training session for deaf and hard of hearing young people was organized in a beautiful country side place. It was aimed at promotion of healthy life and prevention of harmful habits in young people. Lectures and outdoor activities were organized.

The youth were introduced and practically taught how actively spend their leisure time. Visiting lecturers introduced participants not only to the risks of harmful habits but also to the principles of responsible family planning in order to avoid unplanned pregnancies and alcohol-related disorders in babies, which is becoming an increasingly common problem in a society facing difficulties in the family. There were also discussions about how to avoid addictions, why alcohol ads are being developed and other issues challenging young people.

All activities were aimed to develop and strengthen the motivation of young people not to use alcohol/drugs/ tobacco. The trainings contributed to the education of young hearing impaired people, as specifics of their disability limits accessibility to written information in press or internet, where terms used are not always clear to them. During trainings, sign language translators participated in all activities.

FEPEDA meetings and events

Let's bring FEPEDA teens together

When we met in Madrid for the GA last year the idea was born, to bring our teens together during FEPE-DA conventions. In Frankfurt we organised it the first time during the MC meeting in April 2018. The excitement of the teens was really high because it was also the very first time taking part in an international youth group. Team leader Lena Dworschak and girls from Finland, Romania and Germany got to know each other easily; they took pictures of Frankfurt's skyline, sights and funny group pictures. Soon after they printed the photos and created their own individual photo album. They also visited a brand new museum and enjoyed doing handcrafts there. Everybody was very happy and took much more home than only the unique album.
